Why do we use cookies?

They help us to provide you with a good experience when you browse our website, and also allow us to improve our site. By continuing to browse the site, you are agreeing to our use of cookies.

A cookie is a small file of letters and numbers that you have agreed we may store on your browser or your computer. Cookies contain information that is transferred to your computer's hard drive.

What type of cookies do we use?

Strictly necessary cookies

These are cookies are required for the operation of our website. They include, for example, cookies that enable you to log into secure areas of our website, use a shopping cart or make use of the e-billing services.

Analytical/performance cookies

They allow us to recognise and count the number of visitors and to see how visitors move around our website when they are using it. This helps us to improve the way our website works, for example, by ensuring that users find what they are looking for easily.

Functionality cookies

These are used to recognise you when you return to our website. This enables us to personalise our content for you, greet you by name and remember your preferences (for example, your choice of language or region).

Targeting cookies

These cookies record your visit to our website, the pages you have visited and the links you have followed. We will use this information to make our website and the advertising displayed on it more relevant to your interests. We may also share this information with third parties for this purpose.

Third-party cookies

Our websites may set several types of third-party cookies; however, we do not control the operation of them.

The third-party cookies that may be set include:

- Google Analytics – we use Google Analytics to collect data about website usage. This data does not include personally identifiable information. You can view the Google Privacy Policy here: www.google.com/policies/privacy/.
- Google Remarketing – we may use Google's Remarketing cookie to market products and services we think may be of interest to you. You may see our adverts on Google's Display Advertising Network of partner websites and Google's own search results pages. We aim to carefully select the products and services we remarket to you, and do so based on the pages you have visited on our website. To opt out of Google Remarketing, set your Google Ad Settings.

- Facebook – we may use a Facebook pixel to obtain information regarding the activities that users engage in while visiting our web pages. For information on Facebook's Privacy and Cookie policy, visit https://www.facebook.com/policies/cookies/.
- HubSpot - the HubSpot cookies may be used for collecting analytics around user signups and also profiling existing users to tailor emails that help them through account creation and usage. The can read the HubSpot Privacy Policy here: https://legal.hubspot.com/privacy-policy

You can block cookies by changing the settings on your browser that allows you to refuse the setting of all or some cookies. However, if you use your browser settings to block all cookies (including essential cookies) you may not be able to access all or parts of our site.
